

PSHE (LEARNING FOR LIFE) POLICY

The PSHE (Learning for Life) Department aims to take every pupil on a journey to explore their values and belief systems as individuals and as members of the Downe House and global communities. To encourage every pupil to achieve their best by providing opportunities to explore and enhance their personal, social, health and economic well-being and the spiritual and moral values that underpin these, in particular the School code of conduct; to treat everyone, whether younger or older, with the same kindness and respect with which you yourself wish to be treated.

The aims and ethos of the School are reflected in the weekly programme delivered to all pupils from Remove – UVI by a dedicated and passionate team of teachers, as set out in the PSHE Departmental handbook and schemes of work, and is further complemented by guest speakers, both internal and external, on a variety of topics relevant to wellbeing and preparing the pupils for the challenges of the 21st century.

The PSHE (Learning for Life) Programme provides a significant contribution to the School's responsibility to:

- Promote children and young people's well-being
- Achieve the whole curriculum aims
- Promote community cohesion
- Provide careers education
- Provide relationship and sex education
- Promote Equality, Diversity and Inclusion and awareness of the protected characteristics

The ethos of the Department is informed and underpinned by the School's values. The PSHE and RSE programme (known as Learning for Life) aims to develop:

- Successful learners who enjoy learning, making progress and achieving
- Confident individuals who can live safe, healthy and fulfilling lives
- Responsible citizens who make a positive contribution to society
- Pupils who are living out of the values of individual liberty, rule of law, mutual respect and tolerance. Pupils are also taught explicitly about British values which are defined as: democracy and the rule of law, individual liberty, mutual respect and tolerance of those of different faiths and beliefs.

These values are taught explicitly through PSHE (Learning for Life), as well as through the School's broad and balanced curriculum in line with statutory requirements and best practice guidance.

Safe and Effective Practice

PSHE and RSE often draw on pupils' real-life experiences. A safe and supportive learning environment will be created by establishing ground rules in each context for the delivery of subject material. Staff delivering PSHE and RSE will ensure the pupils, who indicate they may be at risk, get appropriate support by liaising with the appropriate member of the pastoral team and adhering to the Downe House Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy.

Equality of Opportunity

Classroom practice and pedagogy will take into account pupils' age, ability, readiness and cultural background and pupils with SEND, and will be adjusted to enable all pupils to access the learning. We will use PSHE and RSE education as a way to address diversity issues and to ensure equality for all by addressing contextual issues identified through our pastoral management system. PSHE and RSE delivery is designed to comply with the Equality Act 2010. Provisions within the Equality Act allow the School to take positive action, where it can be shown that it is proportionate, to deal with particular disadvantages affecting one group because of protected characteristics.

The right to withdraw a child from Sex Education

Parents will be informed by the Head of Learning for Life (PSHE) when the sex education topics are to be taught in Learning for Life lessons. Downe House respects the rights of parents/carers to withdraw their child from all or some of these lessons, but not those pertaining to relationships or health education, up to and until 3 terms before their child turns 16. Such requests to withdraw should be directed to the Headmistress. The Headmistress will then consider the request and meet with the parents, and if appropriate with the pupil, to ensure their wishes are understood and to clarify the nature and purpose of this element of the curriculum. Once this discussion has taken place, except under exceptional circumstances, the parents' wishes will be respected, up until three terms before the pupils turns 16. Thereafter any pupil wishing to receive sex education can elect to do so without parental consent and the School will make the necessary arrangements.

It should be noted that the science curriculum includes content on human development, including reproduction, from which there is no right to withdraw.

This policy makes reference to the following School policies, copies of which can be located on SchoolBase in the 'Documents' section:

- Relationship and Sex Education
- Safeguarding and Child Protection

Assessment

In accordance with the RSHE statutory guidance, teaching in Learning for Life systematically assesses pupils. Teachers then use that assessment to plan and modify provision for the pupils. In Learning for Life, there are the same high expectations of the quality of pupils' work as for other curriculum areas. Assessments are used to identify where pupils need extra support or intervention, and this can then be put in place as necessary. A wide range of assessment methods are used to monitor pupil progress including written assignments, verbal feedback and self-evaluations. Regular feedback is provided on pupils' progress both to the pupils via teacher feedback, and to parents via regular progress reporting throughout the academic year. The reporting schedule is as follows:
